on the street, is against the rule." And amid the shouts of those who were watching, the old couple, greatly chagrined and embarrassed, turned away.

Tourists Are Present.

The ubiquitous tourist was at the egg rolling also, and was to be identified by the guide book she carried. She could be heard saying to her companion: "Wait until I find page 28, and I will read you what it says about the egg rolling." A group of tourists hovered near the White House, hoping for a glimpse of the President and Mrs. Taft, who, however, did not appear on the balcony.

There were great numbers of children, many of whom, when some one, whose identity was never discovered, let loose a real live Easter rabbit on the grounds. The rabbit, evidently terrified at the strangeness of its surroundings, leaped first in one direction and then in another, making his escape finally.

Bertha and Alfred Schwartz were among the few egg rollers who arrived promptly on the stroke of 9. The boy carried a basket filled with colored straw and bright hued eggs. An hour later he was seen with only two eggs in the basket.

"Have Ate" Their Eggs.

"Have you broken your eggs?" asked a woman sympathetically. "We have ate them," answered Alfred Schwartz, striving to be correct, even if he did feel uncomfortable. "You have eaten all of them—just you two children?" asked his interviewer in a horrified voice.

"I have ate only one," answered Bertha Schwartz, "and my brother ate eight." As the morning advanced, the throngs increased. Children arrived and more children. Go carts and baby carriages dotted the lawns. Lunches were spread, and mothers and fathers, as they enjoyed their exchanged reminiscences of other egg rollings. Everybody laughed and exchanged greetings with his neighbor, because everybody was happy. The spirit of Easter, which is the spirit of youth and hope and newly awakened life, reigned supreme.

For the entertainment of the grown people the Engineer Band gives a concert in the President's park (White Lot) at the north side of the ellipses, from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock.

CLUB PROMULGATES AIR SAILING RULES

French Organization Submits Regulations to Government.

PARIS, March 23.—Rules for air navigation designed to meet the new and complex problems arising from the development of aviation have been drawn up by the Aero Club of France and been submitted to the French government as the basis of a law.

The code, elaborated after much study, aims to meet the rights and interests of all of the aeronauts and balloonists flying through space and of man and man's property on the earth below.

Following are some of the club's suggestions: Aerial craft, whether aeroplanes or dirigible balloons, shall circulate lower than 150 feet above private property.

Flying above cities requires a permit from the municipal authorities.

The fixing of routes is recommended as a way of avoiding collisions. Aeroplanes and dirigible balloons should keep to certain, and marked, spherical balloons so that explosions or other accidents to dirigible machines may not endanger the spherical airship.

For the protection of the aeronaut, it is recommended that owners of high buildings and other structures be required to illuminate their property at night at each level of 50 feet, that electric wires and conduits strung above 150 feet from the ground be marked each 500 feet with a white flag by day and a white light by night. Other suggestions relate to establishing aerial "ports of access" to large cities.

Idle Rich Blamed For Full Prisons

Debaters Differ In Views on Responsibility for Law-Breaking.

The idle rich of America, whose dividends are produced often at the cost of human suffering, are the real source, according to M. A. Posen, of the criminal class of America. Mr. Posen, Dr. P. Castleman, and M. Levy held a three-cornered debate last night at Collegiate Temple, on Eighth street, when the subject of the sources of supply of America's law-breakers was discussed from the viewpoint of the layman, the physician, and the lawyer.

Dr. Castleman stated that at present America is spending $900,000,000 per year to maintain its prisons, and quoted authorities on criminology to prove that to heredity is due most of the crime committed. He declared that if the money expended on American prisons were spent in removing the causes of crime, it would be a comparatively short time before there was no longer a criminal class.

WILL MEET TONIGHT.

Northeast Council, National Union, will meet tonight at 1121 H street northeast.

ECZEMA VICTIM GAVE UP HOPE

After Suffering a Year with Raw,
Watery Humor on Hands and Face
—Prescriptions Did Not Do a
Bit of Good—Scratched Till Blood
Came and Had to Quit Work.

COMpletely CURED
BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I suffered with eczema for one year and had two of the best doctors in town, but their medicine did not help me. First of all there were small white pimples on my left hand and I had to scratch until the blood came. Then they would puff up and water would run out. Wherever this water would run there would be more pimples until my whole left hand was a mass of sores. Then my other hand became affected and they were like a piece of raw meat. Then it came on my face, neck and under my right arm so that I was unable to raise my arm for two weeks. It became so bad that I was obliged to give up work."

"About four months ago I started to doctor and the doctor told me it was eczema. So he told me to get ointment and soap. I used them for a month and they didn't do me one bit of good so I tried another doctor. He gave me three different kinds of medicines, but I was very much put out when these remedies did not help me. I was unable to sleep at night and I gave up all hope until I decided to try the Cuticura Remedies. I used two cases of Cuticura Soap, two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and three bottles of Cuticura Resolvent and I am glad to say I am cured. Miss Nora Shultz, 243 North Third St., Reading, Pa., Jan. 4 and 7, 1909."

JOHN W. STURGIS ORDERED TO PRISON

Justice Gould Sentences Former Bank Clerk, Who Pleads Guilty.

John Ward Sturgis, who, at the age of twenty-two, stands a self-confessed forger, will serve three years and six months in the penitentiary.

After embezzling $800 from the National Savings and Trust Company, by which he was employed, Sturgis fled from Washington, was hunted through Canada and half of the United States, arrested in New Orleans, where, with his money, he was found playing a piano for a living, and was brought back to confess his guilt this morning to Justice Ashby M. Gould.

A Peculiar Case. Sturgis' case is a peculiar one in the annals of local crime, as there is no apparent reason for his misuse of the bank's funds.

When Sturgis was arraigned this morning and pleaded guilty, District Attorney Baker asked for a five years' sentence. Justice Gould declared himself familiar with the case, and commented upon the absence of any motive, and declared that the length of time which Sturgis would serve made not so much difference as the fact that a youth of previously unblemished good record should be sent to the penitentiary. The judge declared that he believed that the sentence of justice would be served if the sentence was not a rigorous one, and of such a length as to give the young man another chance.

Sturgis would not make any statement to the court, and the judge imposed the three-and-one-half-year sentence. According to the indictment brought against him, Sturgis forged checks on dormant accounts. He is specifically charged with having drawn the following checks:

On the account of Mary Kennedy, August 27, 1909, $45, and on the account of A. W. Noer on August 25, 1909, $2,500; May 3, 1909, $100; July 2, 1909, $20; June 11, 1909, $40; May 25, 1909, $40; June 21, 1909, $40. The total is $3,245.

After Sturgis left Washington, he traveled extensively through Canada. Then began his flight which took him first to Chicago. While there he was employed by the banks, and the Chicago authorities charge him with similar irregularities in his accounts. Whether they will insist on prosecuting him at the expiration of his present sentence is not known, although there made a determined effort to get him at the time of his arrest in New Orleans.

SCHOOLBOY PLIES TRADE AS COBBLER

Following Footsteps of Father and Grandfather.
Takes to It Naturally.

BASKET, Pa., March 23.—The youngest shoemaker in Berks county is ten years old, Harry Christman, of Alsace Hills. Harry is not only a shoemaker because his grandfather was one and his father, George Christman, is one, but because he desired to learn how to repair his own shoes and those of his brothers and schoolmates. He does not miss school to follow the trade he loves so well, but after he comes home and has done the family chores he hurries to the shoemaker shop and pounds shoes till late at night. His father is seventy-one years old and crippled, and can only now and then follow his trade, so Harry helps and has become one of the breadwinners.

Harry is a quiet sort of farm boy, but his work in school tells he is one of the brightest in his class.

AMERICAN-CHINESE TREATY REPORTED

Uncle Sam's Navy to Be Relied on to Protect Empire's Integrity.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 23.—A dispatch from Mukden says that Wu Tingfang, late Chinese minister to the United States, is going to Washington to formulate an American-Chinese treaty, the principle of which has already been agreed upon.

One clause provides that if China is subject to an aggressive attack, the United States will help her with her navy. The treaty, it is said, has Germany's moral support.

ALLEGED ANARCHIST. C
